

9/11

On Tuesday, September 11, 2001, at 8:45 am and out of the clear blue sky, America and the rest of the world changed forever. The United States was under attack and by the end of the day, almost 3,000 people lost their lives and the entire country left was sad, confused, and scared.

Now, 18 years later and still united, we remember those who lost their lives during the attacks as well as the heroes who saved countless lives that day.

On this national day of remembrance we must reflect, remember, and be thankful for all that we have. Be extra kind to each other today, perform a good deed, and think about the good that can come out of being united as Grizzlies and as Americans.
