Sports Announcements:

I normally read the sports announcements to our students over the loud speaker in the morning. I have been asked to share them in the written portion as well. Please understand that coaches submit write ups to me after the games and that I only read the sports announcements I receive. With Cross Country coaches don't always get the results immediately, so there could be a day or so delay. If you have questions about the sports announcements, please reach out to your student's coach.

Thank you
